

TRUSTEES OF FREE SCHOOL, MILEHAM CHARITY

Following our consultation with residents last December and our update note in January, we wanted to provide an update on the sale of Mileham's old school.

Our prospective purchaser has advised that they are no longer proceeding - this is due to a combination of factors, including what they consider to be a very weak local housing market and rising costs of planning, building, materials etc. Clearly very disappointing but we need to move on.

We had initially planned to start an auction process but now believe that we should first test the market by advertising the property for sale. We plan to market the property for up to 6 months to assess interest.

If there is no interest at an appropriate price, then we expect to start the auction process in early 2027.

Should any residents of Mileham be interested in purchasing the property, then we would appreciate you making this known directly to the Parish Clerk (either via letterbox at Village Hall or email to clerk@milehamparishcouncil.gov.uk) in order to save the charity potential estate agent fees.

As a reminder, all money raised will belong to the charity (not the Parish Council) and must be used to support the objectives of the charity, which are broadly to advance the education of the children of Mileham.
